MRS. RENA MOONEY NOT GUILTY

HARD DAY FOR MAYOR; IS THrice REBUFFED

Council Tables His Street Railway Resolution, Woman Tells Him Opinion; Threat Made

NOT TO ACCEPT MATTERS REFERRED HIM

Attorney Who Protests Display Cards Says He Will Report Davie's Action to U. S. Office

A veritable avalanche of adversity descended upon Mayor John L. Davie this morning in the city council and left his official dignity somewhat disheveled. First he was rebuffed and overruled by his own political combination when the commissioners voted down his resolution to force the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways, through the State Railway Commission, to pave tracking space on Telegraph and College avenues. Then he was informed by Mrs. W. E. Street that he was no gentleman, and finally Attorney Walter E. Dunn announced that the Federal government would be asked to investigate his arbitrary methods of tabling communications and petitions.

Although the mayor had prepared a long communication to the council setting forth his reasons why he thought that the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways should be haled before the State Railroad Commission, his colleagues remained adamant to his eloquence and voted down his resolution instructing the city attorney to take the necessary legal steps. The street railway officials will, however, be asked to attend a conference with the commissioners next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

WILL REFUSE.
"Hereafter, when anything is referred to me, I shall refuse to accept it," asserted the mayor after his modus operandi had been characterized by his colleagues as "unbusiness-like," and overruled by four votes against his one.

"The company should have no more privileges or considerations," the mayor said after his letter and resolution had been read by the clerk. "They have not put in one bit of work on Telegraph avenue from the foot of Broadway north for the last two years. Their last promise to act was when we took the lines off and they have done nothing since."

Commissioners Edwards and Jackson at once objected to the resolution and suggested that a conference should be held. This is no way to go about it," said Edwards. "It is unbusiness-like. We should give the company an opportunity to talk the situation over."

"Have we not had a dozen conferences," replied the mayor. "Do you expect to get anything more out of them than you have? They should be made to realize that they are up against the real thing. You placed this matter in my hands by resolution, and now you object to the way I handle it."

MOVES TO TABLE IT.
"This resolution was sprung here this morning without any consultation with us," said Jackson. "I think that it should be tabled, and that we should allow the company the courtesy of a conference. I move that the mayor's resolution be laid on the table."

The explosive "no" from the mayor was the only sound that punctuated the roll call on the motion. Commissioner Edwards then moved that a conference be held on Monday afternoon. "That's a joke," chuckled the mayor, but the look that he gave Commissioner Edwards was not charged with good humor. The motion carried unanimously. Whereupon the mayor announced his ultimatum that he will never again accept any business matters referred to him.

The verbal missile from Mrs. W. E. Street of 901 Twenty-third avenue, followed the reading of a report from Health Officer Kirby Smith to the effect that the collection of garbage had not improved during the last 24 hours, and of a communication from Assem-

First Sea Lord Is Elected to Parliament

SIR ERIC GEDDES.

Sir Eric Geddes Gains Place in British House of Commons.

LONDON, July 25.—Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, was elected without opposition today member of the House of Commons from Cambridge borough. Almeric Paget resigned this seat to make a place in the House of Commons for Sir Eric.

The rise of Sir Eric Geddes finds almost no parallel in the history of British politics. His appointment to the post made vacant by Carson's resignation was described by the London press as "startling, original, bold."

He had never held a seat in the British parliament, and had never taken much interest in politics. He was born in India, of Scottish parents, forty-one years ago. At 17 he left school in England to gain practical experience in America. He was with the Homestead Steel Works at Pittsburgh a year, and with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad as station agent and chief clerk for three years. Then he returned to India. After six years there he was called to England in 1903 by the Northeastern Railroad Company.

Since the outbreak of the war Geddes has risen rapidly from one post of responsibility to another. Until a few months ago he was in charge of the whole army transportation. He gave up this work when appointed controller of the admiralty with charge of naval construction. His work as controller ceased with his appointment as first sea lord.

MORE TROOPS IN SAN JOSE STRIKE ASKED

SAN JOSE, July 25.—Colonel R. P. Davis telegraphed Major General Hunter Liggett today recommending that another company of troops be sent immediately to San Jose and Santa Clara to guard life and property threatened by striking cannery workers. Colonel Davis had been investigating the situation.

Civil authorities were apprehensive of further rioting as it was known that many of the strikers are armed. Several men, said to be agitators, seeking to foment strikes among employees of canneries still operating, were arrested early today.

Before sending the telegram to General Liggett, commanding the Western department of the army at San Francisco, Colonel Davis countermanded the order recalling soldiers who were sent to Santa Clara, three miles north of here, last night in response to request of city officials.

TWO CANNERIES RESUME.
Two of the five fruit canneries at Santa Clara, which were tied up yesterday by a strike for higher wages and a closed shop, resumed work today under guard. About 700 of the 2,200 strikers were said to have reported for duty.

Meanwhile the strike was reported spreading among field laborers, who have been organized by the Farmers of the World, a seemingly local body, which is managing the cannery strike, and tons of apricots, dead ripe, are threatened with destruction. The outbreak of the canneries is largely confined for by the Federal government and the allies.

Measures for maintaining order went forward rapidly today. An hour before dawn eighty-five citizens of

KERENSKY IN STRUGGLE TO HOLD FRONT

New Russian Dictator Faces Problem of Cave-in of Army Before Tarnopol Aid Is Given

BULLETIN.
PETROGRAD, July 25.—(British Admiralty per Wireless Press.) July 25.—Russian commissioners who restored discipline in the Seventh and Eighth armies, making possible the recent Russian offensive in eastern Galicia, after witnessing the retreat of the Russians in the face of the Austro-German attack, have sent their reports to Premier Kerensky.

They advise that "capital punishment should be meted out to those who refuse to risk their lives for their Fatherland and freedom."

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
LONDON, July 25.—Premier Kerensky must move fast in his campaign to bring about a cessation of discordant elements in the army or the cave-in of the Russian line in the Tarnopol-Stanislau sector may be so enlarged by the enemy as to cut off Russia's forces to the south in the Carpathians.

Petrograd despatches today gave a ray of hope that Kerensky would succeed in reforming the demoralized regiments. One encouraging factor was the evident loyalty of Russians on the Carpathian, Rumanian and Vilna-Dvinsk battle lines.

Germany evidently planned her intrigue to center around Tarnopol, hoping for complete breakdown there and penetration of the Russian lines for flanking movements in both directions.

Best front advices today indicated the Russian armies retreating along a front of nearly 140 miles from the upper Serezh river to the wooded Carpathians, over a wide front, in others by orderly retreat.

Evacuation of Stanislau by the Russians was officially reported from Petrograd. A defeat at Mikuliche, south of Tarnopol, was reported by the Russian News Service despatches. Tarnopol was apparently a blazing ruin.

FIGHTING NEAR VILNA.
AMSTERDAM, July 25.—Tarnopol, abandoned to the Teutons by the Russians in their Galician retreat, was still burning today, according to the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger.

"Some of the Russians violently resisted the Austro-German advance," the newspaper declared. "South of Dvinsk the enemy is assuming a strong offensive over a wide front, indicating no lack of munitions. Fighting is developing in the direction of Vilna."

COPENHAGEN, July 25.—A special despatch from East Galicia says despatches are pressing forward by forced marches south and southeastward from the gap in the Russian line, cutting in behind Russian lines, and that the Russians cannot possibly have their big military depots at Kosow and Krywe.

The despatch says that to the north the Russians are beginning to totter. The number of prisoners taken is high.

A semi-official German report describes as a striking panorama the retreat of the Russian armies in Galicia. Retreating columns stretching to the horizon can plainly be observed from numerous vantage points. The retreat occasionally degenerates into a full rout, particularly under the influence of the Austro-German field guns, which are abreast the infantry vanguards and dash forward to a hill top, where they pour a demoralizing fire into the masses crowded in the roads.

Additional quantities of munitions, provisions and heavy guns were captured. Another report says that airplanes heavily bombed the station at Monaster Zyska and the new road for the Russian troops south of the point, from which regular communication has been severed.

WAR'S HEAVY COST
LONDON, July 25.—Before many months have elapsed the war will be costing England $40,000,000 a day. This prediction was made today by Reginald McKenna, former chancellor of the exchequer and one of the foremost experts in England on fiscal affairs. The war is now costing England nearly $34,000,000 daily and this sum is mounting steadily.

80 PERISH IN MINE
HALIFAX, N. S., July 25.—Eighty workmen were killed today in an explosion at No. 6 mine of the Dominion Coal Company, at Newwaterford, C. B., according to advices received here from Sydney. Twelve bodies had been recovered at noon.

AMERICA'S AID NEEDED TO END WAR

General Staff Officers Who Visited Western Battle Front Declare Line Is Impregnable

Airplaned Fleets Required to Smother German Artillery; Would Commandeer Vessels

By John Edwin Nevin, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The European war easily can last until 1919. That is the unanimous opinion of the nine American observers who returned yesterday from a tour of the western battle front. These men, all officers of the general staff, made a preliminary report to the War College last night and amplified it today. Later they will reduce their observations to writing and will tell in detail just how the war now is going.

While much of the material they brought back is of confidential nature, it is possible to make public the following conclusions which these trained observers drew:

There is not the slightest indication that the German line is weakening at any point.

All along the western battlefront from the sea to the Swiss frontier both sides are constantly increasing their man power.

LINE IMPREGNABLE.
The British and French offensive revealed that the German entrenched line—the Hindenburg line—is well high impregnable under the existing conditions, and an attempted offensive of the Germans has shown that it is impossible to take any of the ground lost to the Anglo-French forces. Consequently each side is sweeping up conditions and waiting for the opportunity to strike.

Both sides are constantly increasing their man power, the Germans answer to the American draft as has already been pointed out in the International News Service despatches, having been to call up more than two million of her younger classes to report to the colors next March.

The German submarine menace still is a very grave one, he met if the United States is to transport an army to the front, and maintain it there, which will be in keeping with the promises that already have been made.

NEED AMERICAN TROOPS.
American troops are badly needed on the battlefield. While the lack of transports has made it seemingly impossible for the United States to get in excess of 250,000 men on French soil by July 1 next, the observation is made that the effort should be made to get additional shipping, even if it has to be drafted from the allies—so that this figure can be made 600,000.

America's opportunity to shorten the war, these officers point out, lies entirely in finding a real remedy for the submarine trouble and in creating an aerial fleet that will be better than any now in use. The latter proposition is the easiest, it was suggested, as the submarine is unable to keep pace with all suggested engines to curtail them.

If the United States is able to construct a standardized aeroplane engine of high power, and the experts now believe can be done, it will be possible to smother the German artillery fire and break through the Hindenburg line. But until such a course is possible, these officers say, the situation on the western front must continue about as it is, with minor successes for one side or the other at certain points.

RUSSIA REAL FACTOR.
Officials of the war college also realize that the Russian situation now must be considered a real factor. They are in the dark as to whether Premier Kerensky can rally his forces so as to oppose the German advance. However, there is not general belief among officers here that Germany plans any wide occupation of Russian soil. To do so would take too much of her man power which is badly needed on the western front.

The various reports carried from Washington which tell of enormous drafts of soldiers to be sent to the front at once is not welcomed by the army staff. They say that not only does it do damage in making the people of the country underestimate the task ahead of the nation, but it has interfered with bringing the regular army and the national guard up to war strength. Yesterday's story that the second increment of the national army was immediately to be called to the colors, was characterized as utterly absurd by officers who know the facts.

The war department will have difficulty in furnishing uniforms, blankets, arms, ammunition and the like to the national guard and the first 200,000 men of the national army. It will be next year before it will be possible even to make a start on the problem of outfitting the second 500,000.

The army officers who have brought back first-hand information that the general staff were headed by Colonel W. B. Graves. These officers were the guests of the British along the western front, and were given every opportunity to observe what was going on.

ALLIES CANNOT BREAK GERMANS' WEST LINE UNLESS AIDED BY U. S.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The New York World this morning prints the following Washington despatch:

Nine American officers who accompanied General Pershing to France made a tour along the western front and returned to Washington today, prepared to submit a report to the general staff. These officers represented virtually every arm of the service. They were sent with General Pershing to make first hand observations and to come back immediately to the capital that they might give the war department detailed reports on conditions in the trenches and outline the principal needs of the allies.

The group went to the war department on arriving here this morning, and then went to the war college, where they started a series of conferences with Brigadier-General Joseph Kuhn, head of the college, and his assistants.

TEUTON LINE IMPREGNABLE.
The fact that these officers, or at least part of them, have studied every move of the war from a long distance, and were supposed to have a fairly clear idea of the situation, they announced that the war department that they had no conception of the situation until they had followed the line of trenches from Switzerland to the sea.

They admitted they were astounded at conditions that they virtually all of their preconceived notions were faulty. According to the observers, the

Ship Board's Plans Again In Full Swing

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Reorganization of the Shipping Board and the Emergency Fleet Corporation was in full swing today following President Wilson's acceptance of the resignations of Chairman Denman and Major-General Goethals, and the end of the row which long has delayed the shipbuilding program.

The Senate commerce committee quickly recommended confirmation of Edward N. Hurley of Chicago as the new chairman, but action was delayed on the nomination of Bainbridge Colby for member of the board to succeed Captain John B. White. Colby has been prominent in the Progressive party in New York. Administration leaders, however, expect no serious opposition to Colby.

Vice-Chairman Theodore Brent today also offered his resignation, but the President took no action. Brent was a supporter of Chairman Denman.

Brent explained he could not continue to serve because he was in full accord with Denman in all matters recently in the controversy on the board. Ships will be built at once—both steel and wood—and there will be little talk about it.

This was the decision of Chairman Hurley of the Shipping Board and General Manager Capps of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, as they settled into their new positions today, to take up the great marine construction work where it was stopped by the Goethals-Denman row.

There is to be one more big reorganization, and then Uncle Sam will settle down to completing his first year's program.

President Wilson today announced that he is ready to announce the long expected change in the present national defense organization.

Assured of a definite end to wrangling in the shipping board with the new chairman, the President today said he will now "take the slack" in the defense council. An "industrial war board" of six members, directly responsible to the council of six cabinet members, will be announced probably this week.

The war board will probably include Bernard Baruch, in charge of raw materials; Julius Rosenwald, in charge of finished materials; Frank A. Scott, munitions, and three other men whose names have not yet been ascertained.

These men will have executive charge of all the industrial work and under them will work committees on labor, medical supplies, etc. A separate "priority board" to determine what products shall be given priority in shipment during the war will also be directly responsible to the war board.

BLAME TRIANGLE.
BAKER, Ore., July 25.—Edward Woodcock was shot by C. C. Teale, of the Rainbow mine in Mormon, on Monday, and was brought to the hospital here with a large bullet hole through his abdomen. It was another case of the "blame triangle" the officers say. "Teale" was arrested by a Malheur county deputy sheriff and taken to the county jail at Vale.

The story told to the local authorities is that Teale, working on the night shift at the mine, went home after the usual Monday morning session, and found Woodcock with Mrs. Teale. A quarrel and the shooting followed.

MEXICAN LOANS

MEXICO CITY, July 25.—The House of Deputies last night passed a bill giving the President power to contract a loan of 150,000,000 pesos for the government budget.

The Senate passed a bill granting authority to contract a loan of 100,000,000 pesos to finance the new government bank issue.

FIVE SLAIN, THREE HURT IN DIVER EXPLOSION

NAVY DEPARTMENT MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

Investigation Will Be Made to Determine Cause of Ignition of Gases; Statement Made

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Five men were killed and three injured in an explosion aboard the United States submarine A-7 at Cavite, P. I. The announcement was made by the Navy Department today.

The dead are:

Lieutenant, junior grade, Arnold Marcus.

Machinist's mate, first class, H. H. Lang.

Gunner's mate, second class, O. Hopewell.

Chief electrician, J. M. Curry.

Machinist's mate, M. A. Kunz.

The injured, all of whom were burned above the waist and on the arms, were:

Chief electrician, C. Schallin.

Fireman, second class, A. M. Jacobs.

Machinist's mate, second class, L. P. Nix.

A statement issued by Secretary Daniels said:

"The cause of the explosion, from the preliminary examination, appeared to be due to a collection of gasoline fumes in a pocket within the boat. The cause of the ignition of these fumes has not yet been determined."

The explosion happened at 4:40 P. M. yesterday.

The A-7 was one of the oldest type submarines. She was built in 1902 and had a displacement of only 120 tons, with a maximum speed of nine knots and ordinarily carried a crew of nineteen men.

Lieutenant Marcus, one of the killed, was in command of the vessel. The disaster to the A-7 is one of the few serious cases in the American submarine fleet in recent years.

The A-7 sank off Honolulu about two years ago, with its crew imprisoned and suffocated by chlorine gas.

HOME ADDRESSES.

Lang (mother), Mrs. Fannie Withersell, Dorchester, Mass.

ACCIDENT ON SHIP.
BUENOS AIRES, July 25.—Clay Tenny Liles, a gunner's mate, is dead as the result of an explosion of powder on board one of the ships of the visiting American squadron. The accident occurred while the vessel was firing a salute.

SERBIAN CAPITAL
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Greece has agreed to Serbia's request for establishment of a temporary Serbian capital at Salonika. It was officially announced today. The Allies have abandoned their blockade against Greece. This is the last step in full co-operation between Greece and the Allies. It frees a considerable British force for action elsewhere.

CONVENTION MAY DECIDE IRISH FUTURE

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE
DUBLIN, July 25.—Ninety-odd Irishmen met behind closed doors here today to undertake settlement of the Irish question. The meeting represented the most striking effort ever made to dispose of that 700-year-old problem and is believed to offer greater hope than any previous one, since it is in the hands of the Irish themselves.

The convention includes representatives of the Irish Nationalists, Unionists of Ulster, Unionists of South Ireland, local governing bodies, churches (Catholic and Protestant), commercial and educational institutions. It does not include Sinn Féin, Independent Nationalists or Socialists, but is nevertheless regarded as exceptionally representative of Ireland.

The delegates hope to come out of their meeting several weeks hence with a constitution that will be accepted by Ireland and Britain. Premier Lloyd George has declared any reasonable one will be acceptable by England.

Ulster, as always, constitutes the point of main difference. Ulster's delegates insist their six counties must be excluded from any Home Rule Parliament proposition. The Nationalists are not disposed to consider any proposal for dividing Ireland and believe it will be possible to show Ulster that they will not mean domination of Protestant Ireland by Catholic Ireland.

But nobody in Dublin has any expectation that the meeting opened today by H. E. Duke, chief secretary for Ireland and temporary chairman, would prove an untroubled, peaceable parliamentary affair.

Ad Men Organize Coast Publicity Defense Bureau Delegates to Association's Convention Approve Plan for Aiding Federal Government

Formal organization of the Pacific Coast Publicity Defense Bureau for the extension of federal publicity along lines of value to the United States government became an established fact this morning when the delegates to the Pacific Coast Advertising Men's convention unanimously approved the plan of the Spokane delegation to offer the services of the coast ad men as a defense measure in the spreading of national propaganda.

The resolution embodying the attitude of the convention declares that "whereas the delegates possess a full realization of the urgent need for national service of every nature, whereas it has been demonstrated that advertising and publicity are powerful factors in the promotion of much of war's business, it is resolved that the association tenders to the President of the United States, the heads of the various federal departments, the American Red Cross and kindred organizations, its unequalled services for the promotion and accomplishment of whatever campaign work or propaganda may be successfully aided and accomplished."

The organization under the resolution will consist of representatives of the Associated Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs, and two members at large. The governors of the various states affected will probably be made honorary members.

Conferees of the resolution were directed to President Wilson and the various department heads of the government at Washington.

STOCKTON BOOSTERS ARRIVE.
Stockton swept the convention off of its feet today when a delegation of more than 100 boosters headed by a band of 50 boys from the Stockton Record in convention uniforms, swooped down and demanded convention consideration for their city in 1919. The delegation was headed by Mayor A. C. Hoolihan and J. D. Putnam and L. W. Peterson of the newspaper. They extended a cordial invitation to the delegates to visit them on the year specified, gave a short program of martial music that brought the delegates to their feet with cheers, and rushed back to the city so that the boys could have the newspaper on the Stockton streets at the regular hour.

The convention meeting place is still being wrestled with by the committee, which is trying to settle the 1919 angle of the matter. It was definitely decided that Charles F. Berg, first vice-president of the convention and prominent member of the Portland Ad Club, will be the next president. It is also almost certain that Portland will be the next meeting place. The formal announcement of this, however, will be made late today at the conclusion of the convention's final session.

WEST POINT BUSINESS.
William C. Koteam, professor of accounting at the Southwestern University of Los Angeles, was the principal speaker of the day, his address being on "The Business West Point." Koteam advocated a West Point business institution where men would be trained for the business world as the consumer and diplomatic agents are trained for their work. He declared that trips to Europe to investigate the conditions of foreign countries would be an absolute necessity in future developments.

"The day of small business is over," he declared. "The war is changing conditions so that things will have to be conducted on an entirely different basis. Efficiency and economy are being developed by present day exigencies to the point where only the efficiency trained man of the future can hold down the commercial readjustments that will follow this war and demand intensive efficiency and economy to handle the situation."

COLOR IN ADVERTISING.
Charles W. Duncan of the San Francisco Ad Club held the convention delegates spellbound for the space of half an hour today, when he went into the science of colors and coloring in poster and other forms of advertising. He divided colors into "cold" and "warm" colors, which he declared formed the main basis of all advertising pigmentation.

Red headed girls always attract attention because they represent the ideal of a warm color," he said. "With them goes the cold blue eye. The Spaniard has the blue complexion that demands the red cheek and she usually has it. The reason why a Turkish rug has richness and depth is because the warm and cold color idea is worked out to a final conclusion. If posters were built like red-headed girls they would have a greater life in them."

Other speakers of the day were M. H. de Young, publisher of the San Francisco Chronicle, who spoke on the "Modern Newspaper"; Sam M. Bratton, president of the Portland Ad Club, who talked on the "Better Business"; Wallace Farrington, an expert on Hula-Hula, who told all he knew; F. K. Batturs, who spoke on "Railroad Advertising" from the viewpoint of the general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific company; Charles F. Berg of Portland, who dwelt on "Patriotic Advertising"; J. Ross Abell of New York, who told of the difficulties of "Tourist Advertising"; and Jack C. Thompson, who addressed the meeting on "Banking Propaganda."

WILL AWARD TROPHIES
During the afternoon, at the conclusion of the departmentals, the awarding of trophies will take place. The coast trophy given by the Los Angeles Advertising Club, will be awarded to the club that has shown the greatest activity in organization work during the year, based upon attendance, committee and educational work. The speaker's trophy, given by the Oakland Club, will go to the speaker who made the best address during the convention; The TRIBUNE trophy will go to the club that has shown the greatest membership showing during the year. The mileage trophy is given for the greatest mileage traveled by a delegate. The president's trophy is given by W. W. Cribbins for the club bringing the greatest number of women to the convention. The retail dry goods award is given by the Retail Dry Goods Association of Oakland. The civic work trophy is donated by Charles F. Berg of Portland for the club that has done the greatest work for its city during the year.

At noon today Mrs. J. Maerhauser will be hostess to the women of the convention at a luncheon on Caywell's roof garden. At 2 o'clock the visiting women are to be guests of the Bishop Playhouse under the guidance of Mrs. W. W. Cribbins. In the evening the final social function of the convention, which marks the formal close of the convalescence, takes place in the Ivory ballroom of the Hotel Oakland, when the big annual ball is held. This is preceded by the yearly banquet which this year will be an "Hawaiian Luau" affair under the auspices of the travel bureau of the Hawaiian Promotion Committee, headed by Fred J. Halton.

ADDRESSES ARE HEARD.
Last night the convention delegates listened to addresses by Professor George B. Hotchkiss, professor of advertising and marketing of the University of New York, who spoke on "Every Letter a Sales Letter"; Frank Stockdale of the Advertising Clubs of the World, on "The Measure of a Merchant"; and a lecture and movie exposition by Perry O. Warren of the National Cash Register company. The lectures were delivered at the Oakland Auditorium theater. The meeting was preceded by the delegates visiting delegates and the local hosts through the downtown portion of the city.

Stockdale in his talk drove home some facts to local advertisers on the necessity of making all advertising positive. He declared the tendency of negative advertising to destroy its own efficiency and urged the merchants to get out of the "Cair-paths" of business and build their own roadways. He said:

"All advertising should be positive, whether it appears on the billboards or in the conversation of the salesman. Theories are essential in business, for they are the patterns from which the real workings of progressive success are made. There are too many negative advertisements to destroy the efficiency of the advertiser. Modern business must not wander over the hillsides. It must be figured with the precision of civil engineering. The modern business is in the buying and selling. It is management, the kind of management that keeps one hand on the lever and watches the signals ahead. The trouble with most stores is lack of management, and this means a turn in adequate methods of figuring a profit."

COUNCIL TABLES DAVIE RESOLUTION

blyman George Gelder, informing the council that an initiative ordinance would be circulated unless the contract with the City Sanitary Reduction Company is revoked.

WOMAN IS HEARD.
"May I say a few words on this subject?" asked Mrs. Street, stepping forward.

"We have heard all that we wish to from you on the garbage question," said Mayor Davie.

"Well, I always thought that you were no gentleman," declared Mrs. Street emphatically, "and now I know it."

"Sit down," ordered His Honor.

"I'm going to," replied Mrs. Street. "Yes, you will, when I tell you to," came from the mayoral chair.

On City Clerk Cummings' desk was a communication from Walter R. Dunn. In it he took exception to the placards which have been posted about the city by E. battery of field artillery. "They tend to insult the men we are calling upon to protect us even with their lives," he wrote, "and thus render the draft extremely distasteful to them. The natural result is to tend to prevent the peaceable enforcement of the conscription act."

PLACARDS DISPLEASE.
After Cummings had announced the nature of the communication Mayor Davie ordered it filed unread. Dunn snapped forward and asked permission to speak.

"Sit down," said the Mayor.

"All right," replied Dunn. "But I shall take this matter up with the national administration and see whether or not I can obtain a hearing."

Protests of twenty-seven residents in the neighborhood of the Union Ice Company's plant at Filbert and Twenty-second streets were read. They complained that the operation of the machinery is a nuisance. The matter was referred to Commissioner Jackson for investigation.

Concerning the street railroad controversy, W. R. Alberger, vice-president at general manager of the San Francisco and Oakland Terminal Railway, made the following statement:

"In order that there might be a complete understanding with the city authorities regarding street paving and the work to be done by this company in Oakland during the remainder of 1917, I wrote Mayor Davie on June 28, requesting an informal conference with himself and other members of the new city council, as after July 1 (the day the new commissioners took office) as possible."

"I assumed that my suggestion was agreeable to the mayor, inasmuch as he wrote me on July 1 advising that, while the Council had scores of problems to settle he could not give me a definite date, he would try and arrange for a meeting in a few days."

"Since that date no communication has been received from the mayor on this subject. Other communications acknowledged receipt of a similar communication from me and advised that they would be agreeable to the proposed meeting at any time set by the mayor."

MAYOR'S MESSAGE.
The mayor's message follows:

"I have many times called attention to the unsafe and unbearable condition of certain lines of street car tracks in this city. Other communications on Telegraph and College avenues, with the answer of the San Francisco and Oakland Terminal Railway Company, have shown the same plan of financial inability to make the much needed improvements."

"The conditions on Telegraph and College avenues need no description for any citizen of this city. Six months ago the efficiency engineer reported to me that the street car lines on the above avenues were in a condition absolutely unsafe to the passengers traveling upon said lines and also to the traffic compelled to cross the street tracks."

"The jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission over such cases as this one has been hanging in the balance of the Los Angeles Transportation Suite, which were test cases and which have in the last few days been decided by the Supreme Court of this state in favor of the Railroad Commission. This means that the Railroad Commission has the power to settle cases similar to the one confronting our honorable body and the people of this city."

"A formal complaint filed by the city of Oakland before the Railroad Commission will secure establishment of the right to force the improvement of these lines or a forfeiture of the franchises thereof."

"The Telegraph and College avenue situation is beyond further extension of this subject to the city of Oakland. College avenue is ready to pave that street and the contract has been let, but the street is to remain in its present condition. The property owners on that street and the citizens of Oakland are not responsible for the financial weakness of any franchise holder. Neither is this council warranted in accepting such cases in enforcing franchise obligations that the people are entitled to. Having charge by charter provision of the city with the franchise holders and having shown uncommon leniency, I recommend that the council authorize the city attorney to take the matter before the Railroad Commission, now clothed with the power to act, to which end I submit a resolution for passage by your honorable body."

TROOPS ASKED IN SAN JOSE RIOT

San Jose, armed with pickhandles and sworn in as deputy sheriffs, motored to Santa Clara and took up stations about the cannery plants. Fifteen Southern Pacific Railroad policemen arrived from San Francisco at 8 a. m. and were ordered to prevent interference with further movements of cars and from cannery aidings.

A volunteer force moved one car from a cannery last night, but in their haste picked an empty one and left the loaded cars where they were. The engine and car were fired upon and a bullet went through the engine cab.

Military authorities conferred here today as to a guard sent from the National Guard camp at Palo Alto last night for twenty-four hour service. This action was taken because of government contracts involved, but officers said any permanent detail would have to be made on appeal to Governor William D. Stephens. City and county authorities, with commercial bodies supporting them, urged their appeals for aid from that source. The governor took the position yesterday that the county should first use its own resources.

Meanwhile Sheriff A. B. Langford has sworn in extra deputies, and is preparing to cope with any repetition of the riot of yesterday, when one man was killed and two wounded in a clash outside the Pratt-Lowe plant.

Fifty federal troops were placed on guard early this morning at the plant of the Pratt-Lowe Cannery company.

City Manager Reed appointed a committee of citizens to meet with Colonel Harris Weinstein, appointed mediator by Governor Stephens. Colonel Weinstein is expected to arrive during the day and will hold a conference with the committee immediately.

Ugh! Calomel Sickens; Salivates!
Please Try Dodson's Liver Tone
I am sincere! My medicine does not upset liver and bowels so you lose a day's work.

You're bilious! Your liver is sluggish! You feel lazy, dizzy and all knocked out. Your head is dull, your tongue is coated; breath bad, stomach sour and bowels constipated. But don't take salivating calomel. It makes you sick; you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver which causes decay of the bones. Calomel crashes into your bile like dynamite, breaking it up. That's when you feel that awful nausea and cramping.

If you want to enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone tonight. Your druggist or dealer sells you a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone under my personal money-back guarantee that each spoonful will clean your sluggish liver better than a dose of nasty calomel and that it will not make you sick.

Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and your bowels regular. You will feel like working; you'll be cheerful, full of vigor and ambition.

Dodson's Liver Tone is entirely vegetable, therefore harmless and can not salivate. Give it to your children. Millions of people are using Dodson's Liver Tone instead of dangerous calomel now. Your druggist will tell you that the sale of calomel is almost stopped entirely here.—Advertisement.

German Gains Wiped Out by French Army

WITH THE FRENCH ARMIES IN THE FIELD, July 25.—In one short stroke French forces early today completely wiped out all Germany had gained by six days' prodigious sacrifices in blood and steel powder along the Chemin Des Dames.

The defense of this highway parallels in heroic brilliance the throwing back of the German waves at Verdun. Since Thursday morning the crown prince's attacks have been continuous and furious. His troops suffered enormous casualties as the price of foot by foot gains. Then these same French troops, who had endured the continuous bombardment and attack, suddenly leaped forward and swept the Germans out of their costly gains.

The reason for the German attack and the massacre of her troops apparently lies in the belief of the German staff that serious Austrian peace tendencies must be overcome, the Teutonic population must be cheered and enthusiasm raised, fresh war loans by some stroke of the strategy. In addition, the observations on Chemin Des Dames are dominant in this theater of the war, and so long as the French hold them the German lines are menaced.

The right way is to have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house so as to be prepared for it. Mr. Charles G. ELIGIBLES FOR ARMY WAIT LIST

In anticipation of the beginning of the work of drafting into the new national army, Alameda county's eligibles are awaiting the arrival of the master draft drawing lists which, according to word from Washington, have been sent out to the exemption boards. With the mailing of the conscription drawing for distribution to the local boards, the assembling of the national army of a half million passed out of the hands of the federal government last night and into those of the civilian authorities, who will notify the men drawn and pass on exemptions.

Immediately the lists are received each board will summon for physical examination double the number of men in the district quota. If more are needed the authorities will keep on calling until the quota is filled.

BUT FEW ERRORS
The final list shows only a few errors in the unofficial report of the drawing already transmitted throughout the country by the press. The surprise of the official report is the fact that the missing number indicated by the drawing of a blank capsule as No. 10,004 was located as serial No. 5794. It was placed last in the master sheet and becomes liability No. 10,500. No. 2780, drawn as No. 10,498, was found to be duplicated and was stricken out.

Secretary Baker has confirmed that in pursuance of suggestions growing out of the conferences of American Army officers with Generals Joffre and Bridges, tactical units of the National Army will be organized on a basis of about 16,000 men each, in place of 24,000.

IS SATISFACTORY.
Generals Joffre and Bridges explained that the smaller unit would have more division in European armies had proved highly satisfactory.

Only minor changes in the lesser units will be made, their personnel of rank remaining practically the same. Marine corps headquarters have issued a statement calling attention to the fact that drafted men who desire to join the corps have the same opportunity, for voluntary enlistment as they have in the Army and Navy, provided they do so before called for service. After the drafted men are summoned they may not choose the branch of service they will enter.

Booth Tarkington
Novel "Conquest of Canaan" at Kinema
Today With Fatty

Beautiful Edith Taliaferro Adds to Popular Story of American Life.

With Miss Taliaferro's Picture the Kinema is Showing Today Fatty in His Latest Turmoil of Joy and Lacerious Stunts.

"We will all recognize, if not our own endeavors, at least those of our own acquaintances, and perhaps our own home town in Booth Tarkington's popular novel 'The Conquest of Canaan' in which Edith Taliaferro is appearing at the Kinema today and the rest of the week. It is a romance into which much action has been included, and even one strenuous political campaign, and a most exciting tense climax which holds interest right up to the last, when young Jim finally makes the handsome heiress his wife.

As for comedy, the Kinema certainly can boast this week for Fatty is not only the most popular of the best he has accomplished to date. He calls it 'Rough House' and it certainly is a rough house from start to finish, allowing him to get in a lot of new stunts.

To round out the program the Kinema has added the well-known trip of Burton Holmes up Mount Hood.—Advertisement.

SUPERVISOR'S EYE IS BLACK, IRE IS ROUSED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Supervisor John D. ("Billy") Hynes is going around today with his head swathed in bandages with two front teeth missing, a black eye and numerous bruises, as the result of an attack, he says, made upon him last night by Dr. James C. Quinlan, a veterinarian surgeon of 1242 Folsom street. After being treated at the central emergency hospital late last night, Hynes said he would secure a warrant for the arrest of Dr. Quinlan on charges of assault and battery. Hynes is a member of the supervisors' health committee and the attack upon him by Dr. Quinlan, he declares, grew out of the doctor's disappointment as a result of the refusal of the committee to grant him a stable permit at Ninth and Folsom streets. The alleged assault occurred at Ninth and Folsom streets when Mrs. Hynes was with her husband.

CAMP EXTENSION COURSES TANGLE

Whether or not Camp Fremont, near Palo Alto, the main army training camp which is expected to house some 40,000 men, is to be removed to another site, depends upon a conference which takes place in San Francisco today between trustees of the Stanford University and officers of the United States army. According to Captain William G. Fleischauer of the quartermaster's department, in charge of camp construction at Menlo Park, it will be necessary unless the trustees permit the use of 200 acres of land less than three-quarters of a mile from the university buildings.

The objection to the army camp grows out of fear for the safety of the co-eds, more than 500 of whom live in the dormitories adjoining the grounds desired by the government. Despite assurances by Major-General Hunter Liggett that no one would cross the line between the army camp and the university grounds, the trustees are not satisfied that it would be a satisfactory arrangement until the matter had been thoroughly thrashed out at today's conference.

Major-General Liggett, who is in command of the Western Department, accompanied by Major James E. R. Jr. of San Francisco, Major Babcock, U. S. A.; Major Park, U. S. A.; Leon Sloas, secretary of the board of trustees of the university, and Vanderlyn Stow, business manager of the university, made an official inspection of the site of the proposed camp extension, which is desired to house the additional 10,000 men. The desire was for 200 acres of land for a field artillery practice field.

The party was accompanied by John H. Sullivan, acting president of the university, and William Newhall, president of the board of trustees. The army officers guaranteed the safety of the girls and gave assurances that no molestation of any kind would be experienced if the ground in question was taken over for federal purposes.

GOVERNORS ASK ACTION ON RIOTS

WASHINGTON, July 25.—"Something must be done immediately about the I. W. W. troubles," is the message brought to Washington today by an emissary from the governors of eight western states in which labor troubles have been running riot.

George L. Bell of San Francisco obtained an audience with President Wilson this afternoon to discuss the situation and suggest remedies. The western executives believe that the situation is so serious that it will be put into effect by federal authorities. He came as the authorized representative of the governors of Washington, California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah and Oregon.

"The situation is so serious that some action is imperative at once," is the way Bell summed up affairs for Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor, and Secretary of Labor Wilson, before going to see the president.

Bell, an attorney, is secretary and executive officer for the California Immigration and Housing Committee.

BISBEE, Ariz., July 25.—Sixteen men were arrested early today and last night on charges of vagrancy as a part of the campaign here against alleged members of the I. W. W. and their sympathizers.

BUTTE, Mont., July 25.—Two thousand striking miners returned to work in local mines today, following the posting of an announcement by operators that wages are increased to $5.25 a day with proportionate increases as copper advances. The action is declared by operators to have "broken the back" of I. W. W. agitation in the camp.

WANTS LONG TO WIN PROBATION

After waiting seven months for an opportunity to win probation on a grand larceny charge by securing passage across the Atlantic to Sweden, Oscar Jacobson has been released from custody. But Jacobson is allowed to remain in Alameda county.

The prisoner was arraigned before Superior Judge Fred F. Woods this morning for another hearing of his case. When the court was acquainted with all the circumstances of Jacobson's predicament he ordered that probation be granted and fixed the period at five years.

Jacobson was taken into custody many months ago. He pleaded that he had been driven prior to the offense and asked for probation. Because of the fact that he is not a citizen of the United States he was ordered to remain in custody as a condition of securing his release. The submarine warfare prevented the accused man from securing passage.

SEEKING DATA

Davis reported today that 135 tons of garbage are being removed daily as compared with 150 tons a year ago. The report was made as to whether this was due to the increased wastefulness of the housewives or the activities of the city.

FOREST FIRES IN WIDE AREA RAGE

PORTLAND, Ore., July 25.—From every northwest state and British Columbia come reports today of serious forest fires. Two fires are raging near Aloha, Wash., and one is threatening the town. The other started mysteriously in a logging camp and is working its way into a large tract of green timber.

Six fires are reported in the Yak river valley in Northern Montana which are believed to be of incendiary origin. Other fires are threatening a large stand of timber worth millions of dollars.

Twelve hundred men are fighting fires in Montana and Northern Idaho. Federal foresters fear a great disaster as in 1910, when 310,000,000 damage was done in the Coeur d'Alene district and several lives were lost.

In northern Washington a great fire is burning rapidly toward the town of Palouse, British Columbia. Other fires are raging in the Arrow Lake district, the Lardo district and near Fruitvale, B. C.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—After days and nights of fire fighting the forest fires that are burning in the mountains near Santa Cruz and Guerneville are under control today. The Santa Cruz fire is raging along a ten-mile front on the west side of the city and is within a half mile of Boulder Creek, but its spread has been stopped, according to latest reports.

ENGINE HITS AUTO; FOUR DIE IN L. A.

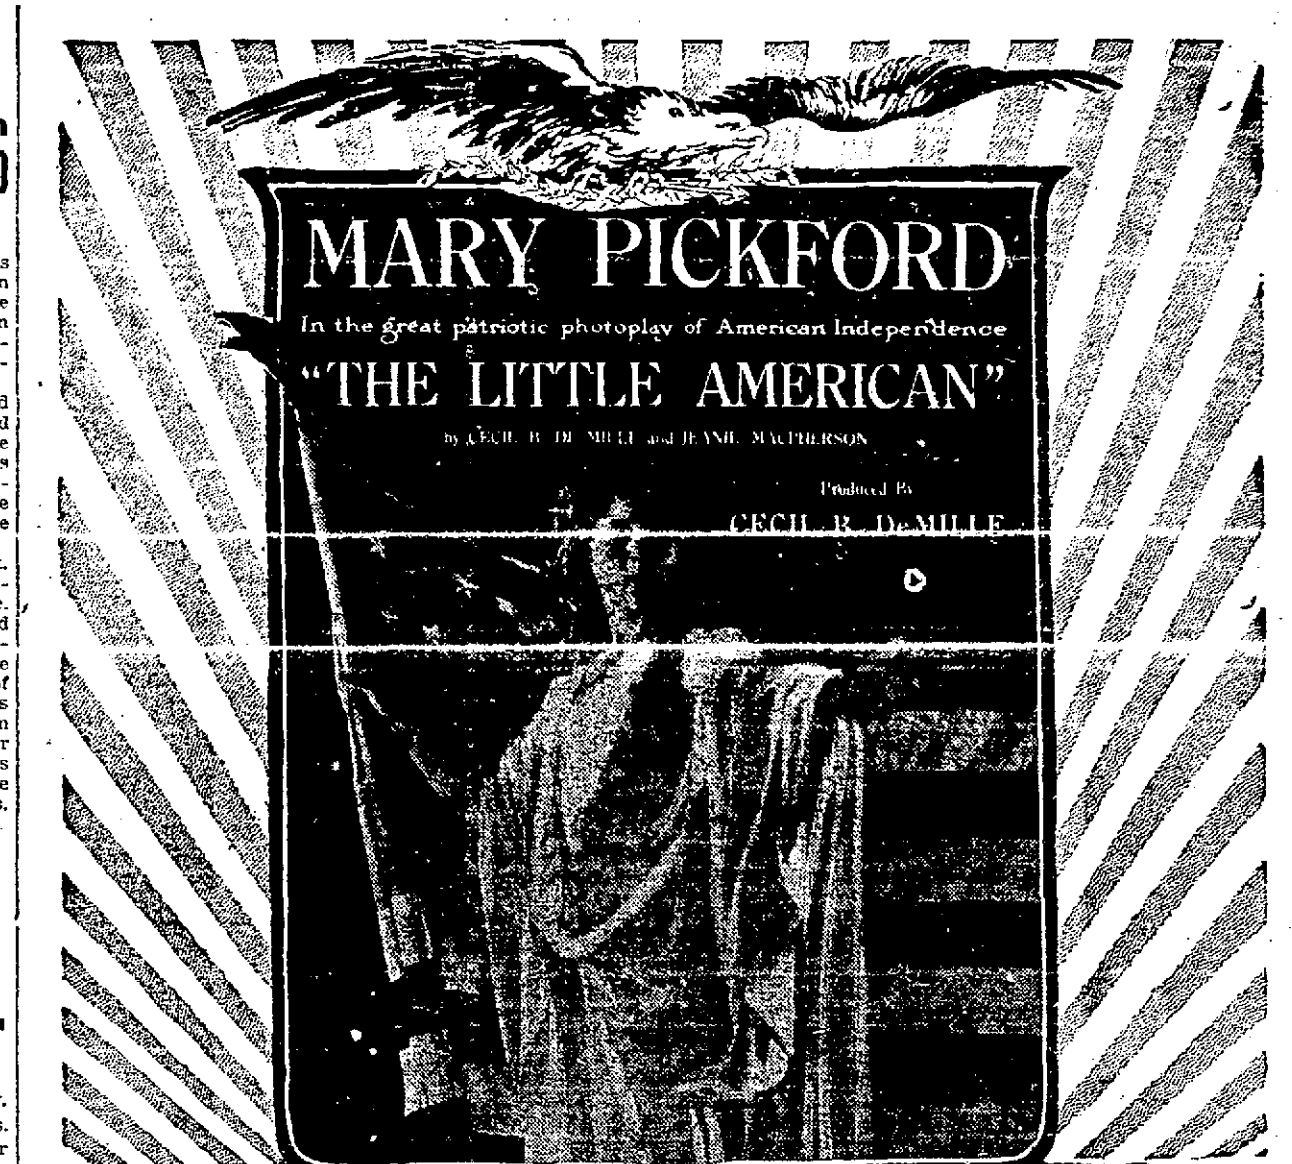

LOS ANGELES, July 25.—The Rev. Jesse P. McKnight of Los Angeles, Mrs. McKnight, her sister, Miss Willy Smyser and George Duncan, a Los Angeles attorney, are dead and Mrs. Carrie M. Smyser, mother of Mrs. McKnight and Miss Smyser, is dangerously injured as a result of an automobile accident at Wilmington.

Mrs. McKnight and Miss Smyser were instantly killed when a Southern Pacific switch engine backed into an automobile in which the five were riding. The Rev. Mr. McKnight and Duncan died two hours later at a hospital in Long Beach, near here.

The Rev. Mr. McKnight was pastor of the Withshire Boulevard Christian Church. Miss Smyser was well known in Los Angeles musical circles.

The party had passed the day in Long Beach and were on their way to Los Angeles after dark in an automobile driven by Duncan. The engine which struck the car was approaching the crossing from the south and was partly hidden from the view of the driver by a building. The car was dragged a considerable distance before the locomotive could be stopped.

The bodies of the young women were taken to a local undertaking establishment and the injured rushed to hospitals in Long Beach where the two men succumbed and where it was said it was feared Mrs. Smyser, the fifth member of the party, could not survive.

Mary Pickford Here in War Drama, "The Little American"

Inspiring to a degree seldom witnessed in motion pictures—brimful to overflowing with dramatic and fascinating scenes—beautiful in its settings and elaborate in its staging—"The Little American" with Mary Pickford, sweetest flower of filmland, in the leading role, opens today at the New T. & D. Theater.

As an argument for American supremacy, as an indictment against Prussian militarism, and as one of the greatest of Pickford productions, "The Little American" is said to be supreme. It is a play of the Great War, timely and exciting, telling the story of Angèle Moore, a red blooded young American girl, who, loved by a French officer and a German American born, arrives in France, near the German frontier, just as the enemy's big drive breaks out. The situation is perilous, the danger threatening. Her chateau is attacked by the enemy and the full extent of the ruthless German principles is pictured and clearly shown in a most startling manner.

"The Little American" is screen drama. It is told in a remarkably realistic manner, gripping the interest and swaying the emotions with irresistible force. The star is first in her line. In addition to the foregoing, this popular Eleventh Street picture palace will present several additional attractions, while a musical score has been especially arranged by Albert Hay Malotte and Professor Stachies, will harmoniously interpret the motif of the features.

MARINER SCHOOL

The fall term of the Public Evening Navigation School will open at 7 15 p m on Monday, July 30, when all who wish to enroll are directed to present themselves at the school room at the Santa Marina building, 112 Market street, San Francisco. Owing to the demand for officers for the merchant marine, a large class is expected. It is probable that the course in navigation will be shortened so as to make it possible for those who work hard to finish in one term of five months.

MASONS WILL AID AMBULANCE CORPS

Oakland will send a delegation of prominent Masons to participate in the ball and entertainment in the Exposition Auditorium, San Francisco, tomorrow evening, at which funds will be raised to equip the Masons' Ambulance Corps of California. Military and lodge organizations will participate. The Oakland delegation will be led by Arthur H. Zeigler, captain of the drill corps of Oakland's Scottish Rite consistory.

Prominent Masons from all sections of the state will attend. Major General Hunter Liggett, in command of the Western Department of the United States army, will be present and twelve members of his staff. There will be music by a detail of fifty buglers from Yerba.

The executive committee of the Masonic Ambulance Corps will present every member of the organization with a gold ring, engraved on the outside with the name of the organization and inside with the owner's name and the name of the mother lodge.

The escort to the Ambulance Corps will consist of the various drill corps of the five commanderies of Knights Templar and three drill corps of the Scottish Rite bodies located in the bay cities.

The music for dancing will be furnished by an immense "jazz" orchestra, made up entirely of Master Masons.

POPE IS HEARD

ROME, July 25 — Pope Benedict addressed the sacred college today in answer to greetings from it on the eve of his name day. The Pontiff spoke feelingly of the conditions brought about by the war with its atrocities and destruction and deplored the extension of the struggle.

Battery A and Battery C bowling teams will meet tonight at the Auditorium alleys in a farewell match that is arousing considerable interest among the friends of the various bowlers in the service. Many of the bowlers who frequent the Auditorium alleys enlisted in the artillery corps and there will be a big turnout for tonight's match.

The twenty strings, averaging 110 to the string for duck pins, was the usual bowling feat accomplished at the Auditorium alleys last Monday night when the Generals of Quiney and Barnstable met the Generals of Quincy, Massachusetts, hooked up in a special match game. Gengler took a total of 1,278 for his ten strings against a total of 1,098 for Burke's ten-string total. Gengler rolled 143 and 142 for his two highest strings, over one hundred for each string. Gengler won nine of the ten strings that were rolled, and the other string went to a Burke's score for the separate strings was as follows: 50, 26, 94, 100, 20, 100, 100, 100, 100, 100.

High Score Gives Hollmann Prize in Billiard Play

Bill Hollmann took first honors in the progressive billiard tournament at the Oakland Parlor last night, posing out a 200-point high score in the final round. Steve McPherson got into the "200" class and four others—Harry Hollmann, Connors, Feret and Borman got in the prize money.

Steve McPherson got in the high run of the evening, marking off 20. Luna and Fred Plumb took the 100-point prize. Harry Hollmann, Schwartz, pulled the high double run of 41. Bill Hollmann mixed up his name in one which gave him the high score, one which gave him the high score. Steve McPherson and Fred Plumb took the two drawing prizes, and H. W. Smith was the winner of the "Lucky" prize.

The scores:

W. C. Hollman 218 R. J. Luna 174

$25,000 Is Wagered on Baseball Championship
Series in Alaska

SEWARD, Alaska, July 25. — The baseball championship of southwestern Alaska will be decided next Sunday when Seward and Anchorage clash in a three-game series. Great enthusiasm has been aroused over the series among old timers in Alaska, and among the forces employed in the construction of the United States railroad. A large crowd from Cordova, 500 miles from Anchorage, has promised to attend.

It is estimated that $25,000 has been wagered in side bets upon the series. Seward was the winner a year ago.

is more necessary at the moment to insure the safety and prosperity of the country than that the railroads be able to handle the utmost possible amount of freight. The railroads gave in April some 15 percent more freight service, with practically the same facilities, as in the same month last year.

DEMAND CREDENTIALS.

It is needful that the public exercise due watchfulness with reference to promoters of charity events. Several cases of individuals staging some benefit for a war auxiliary without proper authority and then pocketing the proceeds have been reported in San Jose, San Francisco and other cities. A suspected attempt at such a proceeding is now under investigation in Oakland.

All bona fide workers for the Red Cross or any of the various funds for the relief of European babies, soldiers' dependents, the unfortunate sick and disabled, or any other worthy cause, can present credentials without difficulty. As to the Red Cross, the funds are being administered efficiently through the war council of the national organization at Washington and $1,000,000 already has been appropriated for immediate necessities in France.

Before lending their patronage to any enterprise local residents should insist upon some evidence of the genuineness and honesty of the individuals promoting it, and also ascertain what percentage of the proceeds are to go to the charity. In the local case under investigation only a small percentage is reported as intended for the charity.

NO WATER COMPETITION.

By the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission announced yesterday the railway terminal cities of the Pacific Coast lose their fight for a preferential rate over the intermountain cities, and the theory of the railroads and the coast cities that the interior cities should pay the through rate plus a "back haul" rate from the coast port, is rejected.

This decision is another long step in nullifying the advantages of water competition which the producers and shippers of the Pacific Coast anticipated by reason of the construction of the Panama Canal. The commission points out that water competition with the railroads now is negligible; hence the rates which it permitted the railroads to establish when ships plying the canal were bidding for the coast shipping trade are abolished.

In its decision of a year ago abolishing the preferentials which the railroads had been permitted to extend to commodities capable of being shipped from coast to coast by water, the Interstate Commerce Commission received the joint assurance of the transcontinental railroads and the shipping companies engaged in canal trade that shipping rates would never again be as severely competitive with rail rates as they were during the first two years of the operation of the canal. It seems that the commission is prepared to recognize an understanding between the railroads and steamship companies for rate-fixing purposes. Should this prove true the advantages anticipated from the canal route never will be realized. The spirit, if not the letter, of the act creating the Interstate Commerce Commission would be violated by such benevolence toward the carriers and it behooves the shippers of the Pacific Coast to be constantly on guard against the perpetuation of such a policy. California, whose products must be transported long distances to reach the markets, has much at stake in this movable stage of rate-fixing and her commercial and industrial organizations should be constantly alert.

RAILROAD EARNINGS FOR MAY, AS REPORTED BY THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION, SHOW THAT 187 PRINCIPAL LINES EARNED OVER $1,000,000 MORE THAN IN MAY, 1916. AND 1916 WAS THE YEAR WHICH BROKE ALL RECORDS IN RAILROAD EARNINGS. FROM THIS REPORT IT IS TO BE CONCLUDED THAT THE PESSIMISM AMONG THE RAILROAD OPERATORS OCCASIONED BY THE EXTREMELY POOR SHOWING FOR FEBRUARY WAS UNFOUNDED, AND THAT THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION ACTED WISELY IN REFUSING TO ALLOW THE REQUEST FOR A BLANKET RATE INCREASE OF 15 PER CENT.

PROVIDE FOR SOLDIERS' DEPENDENTS.

Up to the present time the problem of providing for soldiers' dependents has not pressed for Federal solution. The regular army men have been following their profession in its ordinary routine. The National Guard has been in the service of the States. But now the Guard has become an arm of the United States Government, and within a short time several hundred thousand civilians will be withdrawn from their customary pursuits and ordered to duty with the colors. The protection and support of thousands of persons will immediately become the concern of the National Government.

The country knows that they cannot safely be consigned to the guardianship of private charity, or left to the uncoordinated efforts of local authorities. The armies in which they will serve are United States armies; the task of re-adjusting their incomes to new conditions is a labor the United States must undertake. It alone has the resources of wealth that are necessary to do the work creditably. It alone can create the nation-wide organization that economy and efficiency require.

The first step necessary is the establishment of a Federal pay schedule and a bureau of distribution in which no vestige of charitable consideration shall be discernible. The suggestion that the recipients of separation allowances are enrolled as paupers or deserving poor cannot be tolerated for a moment. No trace of humiliation can be allowed to attach to acceptance of the wages earned by men in khaki, but paid to the representatives whom they designate in civil life. Allowances must be treated as soldier's pay.

In addition to insuring that the government bears responsibility for seeing to it that no fraction of the sums due to soldiers' dependents is diverted from its owners to claim agents, attorneys or other intermediaries, the system of payment must be made so simple that room for misunderstanding cannot arise, and so direct that there will exist no twilight zone to permit the depredations of great or petty money grubbers preying on the weak or inexperienced. There must not be scandals such as once attended pension collection or the disbursement of Indian funds. The government itself must furnish whatever legal assistance is needed, and make its cost a charge against the treasury. Under a proper administration of the funds this charge will be small; whatever the administration may be, it must not cost soldiers' dependents a cent.—New York Sun.

NOTES and COMMENT

The Russians want a Republic, though few of them know what that means, and none of them seems equal to the task of achieving it.

This nose biting seems to be epidemic. In addition to the account of the man who bit off his wife's nose there is now for perusal the story of the man who bit another's party off. It is an altogether new form of combat.

The wheatless biscuit is one of the emergency discoveries. To complete its seeming anomalous character it ought to be baked in a cookless cooker.

The San Diego Union is responsible for this sassy one: "They have named a Los Angeles baby after Herbert Hoover. So far as known the baby has shown no indication to assist in the conservation of food."

An advertisement in the Dubuque Times-Journal tells how death may be robbed of its sting: "A funeral service conducted by us is noted for its simple, dignified grandeur. The talents of our well directed organization make each funeral ceremony a decidedly artistic achievement."

We are not likely to overlook the fact that the fourth year of this terrible war will begin within a few days. It is a lamentable fact that the end of it is no more determinable now than it was at the beginning.

"Do you know," inquires the restless philosopher of the Chico Enterprise, "that when not in use, a paper weight should always have something under it so as to keep it in good running order?"

The Federal shipping bill, which American shippers almost without exception protested against but which Senator La Follette maneuvered through, is found a great obstacle to the sudden expansion of our merchant marine. In times of peace it was an obstacle in the same way, but the insignificance of the results did not bring it in such bold relief.

As the probable result of an unique appeal published in THE TRIBUNE, the Tracy Press is now being edited by Philo Cooke, an experienced newspaper man of Oakland, while the editor and family enjoy a two weeks' outing at Yosemite and the Tioga Pass.

Somebody figures that to count a billion dollars would require 102 years of steady work at the rate of eight hours every working day. You can see from this how embarrassed you would be if you had a billion dollar. You wouldn't even have time to count it.—Boston Globe.

The important point is that you wouldn't need to.

Unless Kerensky shall prove to be the "Man on Horseback," it looks as though Russia is in for a long and bloody struggle.

The plan to insure the lives of men who go to war, especially those on the firing line, is a new one, and entirely sensible. The pension has been rudimentary in this direction, but not complete enough.

District Attorney Fickert of San Francisco may transfer his activities from the political and official storm center of San Francisco to the firing line. He has applied to join the second officers' reserve training camp, which is to open at the Presidio next month.

SPRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Fresno wine makers claim that if the food bill is passed in such a form as to prevent the distillation of brandy, it will practically destroy the Fresno wine industry. Of course it would be far better, if the production of strong wine is to be permitted at all, to have the bill so passed as to leave the present definition of wine unchanged. This would permit its continued production by present methods, including the distillation of brandy for fortifying but for no other purpose. But even in the event of the bill passing in its present form and of its being interpreted as the wine-makers fear, we can not even then agree entirely with their pessimism.—Fresno Republican.

"Milk-a-lac" is the name under which a new dairy product will be placed on the market by the Keyes Creamery in Stanislaus county. The product is the result of a formula worked out by Buttermilk M. P. Long and consists of butter-milk handled in such a way that the curd can be extracted and put in shape for chicken feed. The new product is reported to keep so well that it can be shipped and sold by feed dealers.—Pacific Dairy Review.

Statements of agriculturists in this part of the state do not agree with the alleged reports to the State Council of Defense claiming that there is no labor shortage. We prefer to believe that our agriculturists know what they are talking about, and that the shortage of farm labor is real. That being the case, every proper effort should be made to secure enough labor to harvest our crops, even if it involve the introduction of Mexican labor.—Fresno Mirror.

THE GAM METHOD.

Notice—On and after date of this notice, Saturday afternoon, from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m. is designated as a general market day, and the space at the foot of the Pinos is set aside as a public market.

All ranch owners and others having produce for sale are invited to bring their produce to this market for sale. A space will be set aside for each person and his bull cart.

All the people of Arana are requested to purchase produce during the hours designated in order that this market may be a success and that the ranch owners may be encouraged to bring their produce to market.

THE JOURNALIST'S CREED.

I believe in the profession of journalism.

I believe that the public journal is a public trust; that all connected with it are, to the full measure of their responsibility, trustees for the public; that acceptance of lesser service than the public service is betrayal of this trust.

I believe that clear thinking and clear statement, accuracy and fairness, are fundamental to good journalism.

I believe that a journalist should be only what he holds in his heart to be true.

I believe that suppression of the news, for any consideration other than the welfare of society, is indefensible.

I believe that no one should write as a journalist what he would not say as a gentleman; that bribery by one's own pocketbook is as much to be avoided as bribery by the pocketbook of another; that individual responsibility may not be escaped by pleading another's instructions or another's dividends.

I believe that advertising, news and editorial columns should alike serve the best interests of readers; that a single standard of helpful truth and cleanness should prevail for all; that the supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service.

I believe that the journalism which succeeds best—and best deserves success—fears God and honors man; is stoutly independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive, tolerant but never careless, self-controlled, patient, always respectful of its readers but always unafraid; is quickly indignant at injustice; is unswayed by the appeal of privilege of the clamor of the mob; seeks to give every man a chance and, as far as law and honest wage and recognition of human brotherhood can make it so, an equal chance; is profoundly patriotic while sincerely promoting international good will and cementing world-comradeship; is a journalism of humanity and of for today's world.—From a University of Missouri bulletin.

WHAT AMERICA CAN DO.

The chief war story of the hour is in many respects what America can do in the air. The council has taken decisive action herein. It has created an aircraft production board, headed by Howard E. Coffin of Detroit, who, as chairman of the committee on industrial preparedness of the naval consulting board, conceived and drove through, without a cent of federal money, and with the aid of the engineers of the country, the inventory for military purposes of the 27,000 leading plants of the United States. All this highly valuable information is now locked up in the files of the council of national defense. Mr. Coffin, vice president of the Hudson Motor Car Company, is one of the most brilliant engineers of America and for nearly two years has devoted his services to the government without a penny of return. He is a man of vision out of the West who has a very distinct power for getting action out of the people around him. He typifies the new impersonal type of public administrator who knows nothing of politics, thinks little or not at all of himself, and seeks only to get the job done. He is known as the father of standardization in the American automobile industry, the standardization which made it possible for more than 3,000,000 motor cars to be running on the roads of the United States against some 500,000 in the rest of the countries of the world put together. The point of course, is that quantity production of airplanes must in the first instance flow from standardization of parts and types and in production.

Thus far on the western front in Europe the supremacy of the air has moved back and forth between the Germans and the allied forces, each side has perfected a new type of war plane which could do things that the previous type could not do. Neither side has been able to produce such a preponderance of planes as to make the control more than momentary. That is where America appears upon the stage.—Grosvenor Clarkson, in the August Scribner's.

LEST WE FORGET.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

The feature of a program at the Salvation Army camp meeting at Presidio Glen was the public wedding of Captain Herman T. Quart and Captain Anna White.

The story-wheeler H. C. Brady reached here after a five days' perilous trip from Portland. It was intended to carry produce for an Oakland firm of commission merchants. At Camp Shafter, Company F, Fifth Regiment, National Guard, of this city, made the highest score at the rifle ranges. Forty-five men of the company made 187 hits, aggregating 711 points.

With the passing of an ordinance prohibiting the wearing by women of hats in theaters, hatless audiences faced the stage in Oakland theaters for the first time.

Mrs. William Clift and Miss Abbie Clift left for Castle Crag for a month's vacation.

RECALLING A GOLDEN ERA.

A link with the great Victorian age of letters has been severed by the death of Mrs. Anthony Trollope, widow of the novelist. Probably very few persons who have lived since that time have been aware that the woman was still living, and, indeed, she had reached the age of 95, when she married to Trollope in 1844, when the novelist was a postoffice inspector in Ireland. His period of literary production was at that time entirely ahead of him. Only the other day an Indianapolis paper asked, "Who reads the novels of Trollope now?" The answer is easy: All who know a good novel when they see one. As the London Times says, in its notice of Mrs. Trollope's death, her husband's reputation, based on his better work, is now more firmly established than it was during his lifetime, when he enjoyed great popularity.—Springfield Republican.

THE HUN'S RETREAT

"Hindenburg's genius retreat to the Siegfried line—his recall in order to spring forward better—seems to have got mixed up somehow with the offensive of Haig and Petain."
The speaker was Col. Bradley Evans, of the committee to entertain the English Mission, of which Mr. Arthur J. Balfour was the head.

"Yes," he continued, "Hindenburg rather reminds me of the little girl who was sent to the store for fly-paper."
"Her mother waited for her an hour, and then started out to look her up. She found her on a corner, moving backwards erratically."
"Gee, how did she get that?" she called.
"No, mother," said the little girl, "I's got me, but we're coming together."—Philadelphia Bulletin.
